Dear John,

I'll call you, too, when I'm there. Cannot really plan for I do not know what I can do. A friend is en route here for at least through Wednesday. He may be driving to NYC when he leaves. If he does, I'll go with him and save one-way fare, then return by bus, which may give me an hour or two stopover in Baltimore, but the bus station in Frederick is only 10 minutes (if five miles) away. There is no train service here.

The current Hoover-bugging flap would have been wonderful for COUP if it had been anywhere.

I have begun writing the addition. I've done about 10-15,000 words of it and ought get not less than another 5,000 done before guests arrive, unless I have household and chauffeuring duties.

If any of the major mags dare tackle Hoover how, have I the grist their mills need!

Because of the Kennedy (plus King) involvement, it for the first recent time is not impossible.

Hurriedly,
